

Healthcare Design in Scandinavia

The presentation illustrates the problems involved in planning a large hospital from the perspective of an holistic approach. University Hospital in Trondheim, Norway, RIT 2000 will be used as a case study.

Alan Dilani

Dr. Dilani is a researcher at the Karolinska Institutet, Swedish National Institute for Psychosocial Factors and Health. He is an architect who has designed various healthcare facilities and conducts research on the impact of physical environment on healthcare

The Gallery
27 September 1999
Noon